Holy Family Prayer

May God bless each family present and bless our entire Holy Family Parish. Make it like the family of your Son. May our moments of sorrow give way to the seasons of joy. May the memory of harsh words fade before the warmth of a loving touch. May the tears of sorrow be replaced by the music of laughter. May resentment be banished from our families. And may forgiveness reign in our hearts today and everyday. Amen.

November is the Month for All Souls

Deacon Mike is putting together a special memorial tribute to recently deceased members of Holy Family Parish in the form of a video collage to be shown in November. If you would like a loved one to be included in this pictorial memorial, make a copy of a photo and include their name and birth/death dates, and drop it off in the Deacons' mailbox in the church office to be sure it will be included. Thanks, Deacon Mike, for your efforts in putting together this project.

The calendar year is almost over, but youth ministry is still going! With new faces this year, we are so happy that our ministry is growing. Shout out to those who are saying "YES" to God's call! Here are the events for November:

Nov. 1: Praying For Our Loved Ones (Join us to learn more about life after Earth and helping those who have passed reach Heaven! We will also be praying the Rosary. We encourage you to bring pictures of any of your loved ones, so we can pray for them).
Nov. 8: Regular Meeting
Nov. 15: Thanksgiving POTLUCK
Nov. 22 : NO MEETING
Nov. 29: Regular Meeting

All events are from 2pm-4pm in the CCD Room. Grades 8-12 are welcome!

Pastor's Corner

How much do you know about Fr. Fred's homeland of Ghana? Its location in Africa? See the arrow on the map below and read the information about Ghana ===>

It is situated with the Gulf of Guinea and the Atlantic Ocean to the south, and shares borders with Ivory Coast to the west, Burkina Faso to the north, and Togo to the east.

Its population? 35.8 million people - just slightly smaller than the population of California, which at 39.3 million people is the most populous state in the U.S.

It's land mass size? About 92,098 square miles, which is about the size of Oregon, which is the 9th largest state in the U.S.

Its capital city and largest city? Accra, with a population of 284,000, which is about the size of Fairfield, Vallejo, Napa and American Canyon combined.

Its independence? Ghana gained its independence from British colonial rule in March 1957.

Official language? English is Ghana's official language, inherited from the time of British rule. Akan (including dialects like Twi) serves as the country's most widely spoken second language, spoken by roughly 80% of the population as a first or second tongue. Father Fred was schooled in these two languages, and spoke a dialect at home,

H. F. Recycling.

We continue the recycling program at Holy Family to raise money for our "Building Fund." The recycling company only accepts plastic bottles with or without caps and aluminum cans. No glass of any type. Place bags in the garbage bin storage area in the parking lot behind the church. If you have questions, call Gene at 925-997-9928 or Erika at 707-648-6335. Your donations are always appreciated. More than $75 per month is raised for our Pay Off the Loan fund, so please keep up the good work of recycling and thanks for your continuing efforts.

Missionary Families of Christ

The Memorial Mass we had on October 17th as a fundraising event was a great success. Thank you parishioners and advertisers for your generous contributions. We want to thank also the parishioners who helped in the distribution of flowers and tea lights during the offertory of the Mass.

Here is what we received from the donation envelopes for the Memorial Mass - $8650 and for the Memorial ads - $2275. We were able to take out our expenses from the ads and HF will get close to $1000 back.

MFC will have its Advent Recollection on November 14 from 9-4 at Christ the Light Cathedral in Oakland, CA.

November Challenges

[1] All Saints Day is always celebrated on November 1st, regardless of the day of the week, The year it just happens to fall on a Sunday,

[2] Yes, All Souls' Day is always celebrated on November 2nd, the day after All Saints Day.

[3] Daylight Savings Time, for many years, ended on the last Sunday of October. Due to the fact that Halloween typically followed that date (and it became darker an hour earlier), in 2005 the federal government changed the end date to the first Sunday in November to be sure that kids had an extra hour of daylight every year on Halloween. This year, the first Sunday in November happens to be November 1st.

[4] Election Day, going back to the 1800s, has always been on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Farm culture explains why elections are held in November, since other times interfere with planting seasons or with harvest season, and winter months become too harsh and cold. Elections were not held on Sundays (going-to-church day) and people were given a day (Monday) to travel to their voting locations and then a day back home (Wednesday) for market day - no mail-in ballots back then!

[5] Veterans' Day is always on November 11th, regardless of the day of the week. This specific date goes back to the end of World War I in 1918. When the warring factions in Europe finally decided on a true end to the War, the date chosen to give all factions a chance to spread the word and cease hostilities was set for November 11, 1918. To be more precise, it was agreed that the armistice (from the Latin meaning "stopping arms") would begin at precisely 11:11 in the morning on the 11th day of the 11th month. Following World War II, it was felt that all Veterans of all conflicts should be honored, but it took until 1954 for Congress to declare that November 11th should become known as Veterans Day, changing the prior nomenclature of Armistice Day.

[6] Thanksgiving Day was held sporadically early in America's history, but was formally established as the last Thursday of November by Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War in 1863. In 1941, Congress passed a joint resolution officially setting the holiday on the fourth Thursday of November, to give a little more time for the upcoming holiday season.

[7] Christ the King Sunday this year is on November 22nd. Liturgically, this Sunday ends Ordinary Time and the next Sunday will begin Advent. Thus, it is determined by the liturgical calendar as being one week before the First Sunday in Advent (see the next answer).

[8] The First Sunday of Advent begins the four Sundays of Advent. You first determine Christmas Day and count backwards four Sundays prior to the 25th. That is then set as the First Sunday of Advent with Christ the King being the Sunday immediately prior to that.

THANKSGIVING FOOD DRIVE

Join the parish effort by donating canned goods and non-perishable food items when you come to all the Masses during November (November 1 - 20). There will be bins for collecting the items in the rear of the church. During the week of Thanksgiving, all of the items will be boxed and taken to the American Canyon Emergency Food Pantry to help others through the coming months. We are thankful for our own blessings and we can share those blessings with others less fortunate. Thanks for your participation in this Thanksgiving effort.

Most needed items: Canned meat, fish and chicken, canned soups, chili and ravioli, canned fruit and vegetables, pasta, rice and dried beans, macaroni and cheese, peanut butter. Other non-perishable food items are also welcome. But, please, no expired, opened or damaged food items or packages.

SUNDAY MASS READINGS FOR NOVEMBER

Sunday, November 1st (Solemnity of All Saints)

A reading from the Book of Revelation 7:2-4, 9-14 - The vision of John is told wherein he experiences angels and people from all nations and races. They stood before the throne and cried out in loud voices that Salvation comes from God who is seated on the throne and from the Lamb of God, Jesus.

Responsive Psalm 24:1-6 - "Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face."

Epistle Reading from the First Letter of John 3:1-3 - John tells of the love that the Father has bestowed on everyone. We are all God's children now; what we shall become has not yet been revealed to us. When its is revealed, we shall see Him as He really is.

Gospel of Matthew 5:1-12 - This is the Sermon on the Mount - the "Blessed be's" as it were. Each characteristic we might possess (meekness, merciful, peacemaker, righteousness, mournful, etc.) will be recognize and approved by the Lord and you will have your troubles wiped away, for your reward will be great in heaven.

Sunday, November 8th (32nd Sunday in Ordinary time)

A reading from the Bool of Wisdom 6:12-16 - All of you should seek and love wisdom. When you find her, you will not be disappointed. Seek wisdom and you shall be free from care.

Responsive Psalm 63:2-8 - "My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God."

Epistle Reading from St. Paul's First letter to the Thessalonians 4:13-18 - Just as Jesus died and rose, so too will those among you who have died; you too shall rise through Jesus. And the Lord Himself will come down from heaven and meet those of you who have remained loyal to God.

Gospel of Matthew 25:1-13 - Jesus tells the parable of the ten virgins who took their lamps to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and did not take any oil to light their lamps. Five of them took oil and when the bridegroom arrived, they were prepared while the others were not and could not enter.

==========

Sunday, November 15th (33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time)

A reading from Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31 - The woman who fears the Lord is to be praised. She will be rewarded for her labors. She will be a worthy wife and bring good to those she serves.

Responsive Psalm 128:1-5 - "Blessed are those who fear the Lord."

Epistle Reading from St. Paul's First Letter to the Thessalonians 5:1-6 - The day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. You, brothers and sisters, should remain vigilant; stay alert, for when the Lord comes, you will not be overtaken.

Gospel of Matthew 25:14-30 - Jesus told another parable. A man went on a journey and before he left, he called his servants together and gave each one a portion of his possessions. Some received more than the others. Those who received more invested what they had while those who received less buried their treasures. When the master came back, he called the servants together for an accounting. To those who wisely invested what they had, he praised them for their resourcefulness and gave them more wealth and responsibilities. But to the others, he admonished them for for their lack of insight. He took their wealth and distributed it among the others and threw the slackers out of his household.

Sunday, November 22nd (Feast of Christ the King)

A reading from the Book of Ezekiel 34:11-12, 15-17 - The Lord is the Good Shepherd. As a shepherd tends his flock, so too will the Lord tend His flock. He will rescue them from being scattered. He will keep them safe during their sleep and bind up the wounds of those who have been injured, and bring those who have strayed back into the fold.

Responsive Psalm 23:1-6 - "The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want."

Epistle Reading from St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians 15:20-26, 28 - Death came through a man, Adam, and resurrection of the dead came through Jesus Christ. Jesus reigns over His kingdom and puts all His enemies behind Him, so that God may be in all people.

Gospel of Matthew 25:31-48 - The well-known parable that Jesus told about the shepherd separating the sheep from the goats, placing the sheep to his right and the goats to his left. He tells the sheep to enter into the promised kingdom, for when he was hungry . . . and so on. When they asked when they had seen the shepherd hungry, etc., they were told that whenever they did something to the least of the brethren, they did it to the shepherd. To the others, the shepherd told the goats to depart the flock for when they failed to do good to the least of the brethren, it was like they were not doing good to the shepherd.

Sunday, November 29th (1st Sunday of Advent)

A reading from Isaiah 63:16-17, 19; 64:2-7 - Isaiah prays to the Lord that He will not let His people wander, that He will come down from heaven and protect the people even though they are, at times, sinful. The Lord is the potter and we are the clay, to become the living work of the Lord's hands.

Responsive Psalm 80:2-3, 15-19 - "Lord, make us turn to you; let us see your face and we shall be saved."

Epistle Reading from St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians 1:3-9 - The grace of God has been bestowed on us all in the name of Jesus Christ. We remain in the fellowship of the Son, Christ Jesus.

Gospel of Mark 13:33-37 - Jesus told His disciples to be watchful and to stay alert. If a man travels leaving his servants in charge, they must remain vigilant and awake, for they do not know when the man will return.

A Thanksgiving dinner prayer written by Fr. Jake Martin, SJ.

Good and Gracious God, we thank you for gathering us here today and for all the gifts that you've given us in the year that's past. We welcome the new addition(s) to our table, grateful for their presence, and bless all those responsible for the food we are about to eat, both near and far. And we remember those who go without: without homes, without food, without peace. We ask you to bless them and to soften ours hearts. Amen.
